

Erikllass

23 BUSINESS ENGLISH EXPRESSIONS

01) Around the clock: fazer algo sem parar

- I've been working around the clock in the past weeks

02) Do what it takes: fazer o que tem que ser feito, o que eh preciso

- If you really want to succeed in your business, you gotta do what it takes no matter what.

03) Go-getter: alguém que trabalha mto para ter sucesso

- Little girl, you're such a go-getter. I'm impressed! You really make things happen!

04) Good for you: Fico feliz por vc! Que bom!

- We sold more than 3 million dollars this month alone!

Wow, good for you!

05) Red Tape: "papelada", mto papel que reduz a produtividade, burocracia

- I don't know why the HR needs these documents. They are just red tape.

06) A ballpark figure: estimativa, valor aproximado aproximado

- Could you give me a ballpark figure on your budget this year?

An American flag is draped across the top of the page. Below it, on the right, is a portrait of a woman with long dark hair, wearing a dark blue top, a pink wristband, and a ring, resting her chin on her hand.

Erikllass

23 BUSINESS ENGLISH EXPRESSIONS

07) With regards to / regarding = about: sobre

- The sales are doing great now with regards to the costs, they are horrible.

08) Did you get a chance to...: por um acaso voce teve algum tempinho para... (usado para cobrar alguém de forma sutil)

- Did you get a chance to talk to the HR about it?

09) To follow up: acompanhar

- Follow up by phone tomorrow

- Did you follow up with Mary?

Follow-up: acompanhamento

- Have you sent the follow-up to Mary?

- Make a follow-up call tomorrow.

10) In no time: muito em breve, rapidamente

- When they found out she was lying, they fired her in no time.

Hey boss, I'll be in the meeting room in no time.

An American flag is draped across the top of the image. Below it, on the right, is a portrait of a woman with long dark hair, wearing a dark blue top, a white watch, and a ring, with her hand near her chin. The background is dark.

Erikllass

23 BUSINESS ENGLISH EXPRESSIONS

11) Behind schedule: atrasado no planejamento

- The president will eat us alive because this project is so behind the schedule.

12) Bring up: mencionar, trazer pra discussao

- I'm sorry if I sound rude but don't bring up your health problems.

13) Outstanding: maravilhoso, for a do normal

- Erika, this video with 23 business idioms is outstanding.

14) Get into the swing of things: se acostumar a fazer algo,

- I don't like working from home but I'm getting into the swing of things.

15) To look forward to: aguardar ansiosamente para fazer algo.

- I'm looking forward to hearing from you.

- I'll be looking forward to your visit.

An American flag is draped across the top of the page. Below it, on the right, is a portrait of a woman with long dark hair, wearing a dark blue top, a white watch, and a ring, with her hand near her chin. The background of the portrait is dark.

Erikllass

23 BUSINESS ENGLISH EXPRESSIONS

16) Back to square one: de volta a estaca zero

- Our strategies are not working. We're back to square one.

17) From scratch: do zero, do início

- I started my business from scratch and I'm really proud where I've come so far.

18) I should've seen it coming / I didn't see it coming: Deveria ter imaginado / eu nem imaginei

- We didn't file a patent for our new product and now our competitors are just selling the same things as us. I should've seen it coming.

19) Pat on the back: tapinha nas costas

- Ok your business is doing great, congrats but now stop patting yourself on the back and go back to work.

- He gave a pat on the back but I haven't received any bonus.

20) My hands are tied: minhas maos estao atadas

- I know you wanna buy more licenses, but my hands are tied. I'll try to speak with our boss again.

Eriklass

23 BUSINESS ENGLISH EXPRESSIONS

21) Hit the ground running: começar com o pé direito / ter um bom desempenho desde o início

- Wow, 1 million dollars in sales in the first month alone? You guys are really hitting the ground running. Good for you!

22) No brainer: não precisa nem pensar, a resposta é óbvio, fácil

- Would you move to NY with all the expenses being paid by the company? No brainer, right?

23) Raise the bar: subir a barra, ser mais exigente

- They've raised the bar with regards to our services because we've been delivering everything with such an amazing excellence.

clubedoingles

Clube do Inglês

erikabelmonte

Clube do Inglês

clubedoingles.com

englishbites.com.br